

The annual SkillsUSA National Leadership & Skills Conference (NLSC) takes place June 20-24 in Atlanta. This showcase of career and technical education is an exemplary CTE destination! Pre-conference leadership training experiences for students begin on June 18 and include Activate for chapter leaders and Leverage for state officers. Teachers have their own professional development conference called Engage. Intense and rewarding, these three events cover individual, group and interactive leadership training.

On Tuesday, June 21, the SkillsUSA Opening Ceremony is the first official conference event. On June 23, a new Recognition Session will honor the skill-building work on all levels of SkillsUSA. Delegate sessions for middle-school, high-school and college/postsecondary students will be conducted by the national officers. The sessions provide a platform to conduct the organization's official business as students learn and practice parliamentary procedure. SkillsUSA TECHSPO will include hundreds of exciting exhibits located right on the competition floor. Look for SkillsUSA sponsors and their highly interactive experiences.

The SkillsUSA Championships will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (June 21-23). There, more than 6,500 outstanding career and technical education students compete hands-on in 108 different trade, technical and leadership events. The event begins with contest orientations on Tuesday, followed by two days of intense competition, where students test their skills against the clock and each other. Contests are run — and test competencies are set — with the help of industry, trade associations and labor organizations. Leadership contestants demonstrate extemporaneous speaking, how to conduct a meeting, how to successfully demonstrate as a team and more. The week caps off with an emotional SkillsUSA Awards Ceremony on Friday evening. For a video preview of the conference, visit:
